well im trying to download the game on the xbox 360, and I need to download the code for the game. how do I do that? thanks!

A: The Xbox 360 is a digital console, so the code is in your console's memory. Try downloading the system update tool and downloading the XNA SDK. If the console is not directly connected to the Internet, you'll need to download the XNA game console driver first and then the XNA tool, then plug the console in. A new state law allows drivers who kill people in accidents to avoid criminal prosecution if they go to a seminar on drunk driving, provided they sign a waiver saying they will be prosecuted for drunk driving if they break the law. The provision allows drivers who kill someone in a crash they caused while drunk to drive home from the seminar. It became law on Friday. The law allows drivers who cause fatal accidents while drunk to go to a seminar, if they sign a waiver acknowledging they will be prosecuted for drunk driving, and they pay the cost of the seminar. It also requires the driver to have a clean driving record for the preceding 10 years and an alcohol concentration of less than .15. The law creates a new crime of causing an accident resulting in death while under the influence of alcohol. In addition to the required sentence for that, the driver who caused the accident must pay the cost of the seminar. Under California law, a driver can escape criminal prosecution if there is not enough evidence of negligence to sustain a criminal case. However, the law does not permit a driver to claim that the accident was caused by the negligence of a third party, even though he or she is at fault. Since the bill was introduced, lawmakers have debated the scope of the provision. The bill originally said the waivers could be signed while in jail, but it was amended to make the waiver valid only if it was signed at the seminar. The bill also would have prohibited the driver from driving again for 10 years. However, Assemblyman Jim Beall, D-Campbell, said in the Assembly Judiciary Committee that the provision was too harsh and unenforceable, and it was dropped. Other states have similar laws. Under Alabama law, a driver who causes a fatal accident while drunk can pay for a drivers education program or attend a day-long seminar in which he or she is required to attend. All 50 states have some kind of mandatory alcohol training
